

Memorandum of Understanding

On this day 27 April 2015 in front of Senor Joao Duarte, President of World Association of Working Equitation (WAVE) it is agreed that the National Association of Working Equitation Clubs Australia (NAWECA), Australian Working Equitation Incorporated (AWE) and Working Equitation Governing Body Incorporated (WEGBI) will merge their organisations and form a new body called Working Equitation Australia Inc.

The existing bodies will take action to dissolve their organisations as soon as practicable within the constraints of existing legal obligations.

It is agreed that:

- The current steering committee for the national body consists of two members from each of the aforementioned organisations.
- The current steering committee for the national body is temporary and will be replaced by an elected board when state bodies are formed.
- The new national body should be called Working Equitation Australia Inc
- The new state bodies will be called Working Equitation (state name) eg Working Equitation Victoria
- Each state body will apply to be affiliated with their relevant state Equestrian Australia branch
- Each club will run elections to elect representatives for their state body.
- As each state body is formed they will elect two representatives for the national body

Each of the participants agree that no public announcements will be made unless all parties are informed and agree on the wording and the timing of the announcement.

Gillian Kennerley has agreed to relinquish the name Working Equitation Australia from her web site and ~~to~~ Facebook page. All other points of contact for electronic media from each organisation will be deleted or diverted to the new organisation of Working Equitation Australia Inc.

That when Working Equitation Australia Inc. has met the requirements of WAVE, such as forming the one body, created one rule book, formed bylaws stating that Working Equitation Australia Inc. will be affiliated with WAVE and follow the WAVE rule book, then WAVE will sign the protocol to affiliate Working Equitation Australia Inc.
